Women of Law Enforcement[®]

Respect. Inspire. Strengthen. Empower.

In an effort to further develop myself professionally in my law enforcement career, I am requesting to attend the Women of Law Enforcement Conference. This year's conference will be held at the Bob Bolen Training Center in Fort Worth, TX on September 20-23, 2022. The event provides an opportunity for law enforcement members, both sworn and professional staff, to choose from over 60 break-out sessions covering over 30 topics and incident debriefs taught by some of the best instructors and subject matter experts in the profession. Topics include leadership, investigations, officer safety and wellness, and more. Debrief presentations will provide a look at recent, real-world incidents, analyzing lessons learned and equipping me with best practices moving forward. In addition to the break-out sessions, there will be a series of tactical and hands-on scenario-based training, as well as several firearms courses.

In prior years, the event welcomed nearly five hundred attendees from across the United States. This networking opportunity will allow me the chance to cultivate meaningful relationships and let me gain insight into common challenges faced in the profession. The conference also provides connections with law enforcement companies, showcasing advancements in products and services in the ever-changing profession.

As I look forward to my goals of developing myself professionally, the conference proves to be a valuable use of my time and will directly benefit the agency and our community. Thank you for your consideration.

WOMEN

of Law Enforcement

OUR MISSION

WHAT IS WOLE?

The annual conference provides an opportunity for female law enforcement professionals to learn amongst peers. By surrounding females, with other females, we cultivate an environment built specifically with them in mind.

The conference is designed to build leaders and to help women overcome common challenges they may face in a controlled, encouraging setting. Through the specialized course design, attendees are met with intentional, and practical tools to take back to their agencies.

As women of law enforcement, we respect those that have paved the way before us and we inspire those that will follow us. We build strength not only in ourselves but those we surround. Together, we empower confident, resilient women of law enforcement.

CONFERENCE BENEFITS

- Both sworn and professional staff learning tracts
- Over 60 different sessions covering over 30 different topics
- Hands-on, scenario based defensive tactics and firearms
- Networking with a group of over 500 participants and instructors spanning all ranks and specialties

“ It means the WoLE Conference is doing what I believe Carrie has strived for... inspiring female law enforcement to believe they are capable of anything, to provide networking and support beyond our agencies, and increasing the number of qualified females in admin positions throughout the country. ”
- Sarah Borchers, Sunnyvale PD

WHO SHOULD COME?

The conference is ever changing, with new content added each year.

The goal of the Women of Law Enforcement is to prepare both sworn and professional staff to become driven leaders in their fields. Each professional will leave with valuable resources and connections to benefit both the individual and their department.

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is generally your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the instructions for Part I, later. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN, later.

Note: If the account is in more than one name, see the instructions for line 1. Also see What Name and Number To Give the Requester for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding; and
3. I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below); and
4. The FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that I am exempt from FATCA reporting is correct.

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions for Part II, later.

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Future developments. For the latest information about developments related to Form W-9 and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to www.irs.gov/FormW9.

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following.

- Form 1099-INT (interest earned or paid)

- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
- Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
- Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
- Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
- Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)
- Form 1098 (home mortgage interest), 1098-E (student loan interest), 1098-T (tuition)
- Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
- Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN.

If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding, later.
